In February the Northwest Indiana Coincident Index fell 0.9 points primarily due to a sharp decline in steel production. The forecast for the regional economy over the next six months continues to be for weak to no growth.

The Northwest Indiana Coincident Index measures the current pulse of the economy in Northwest Indiana. The current value of the Index and a six-month forecast is released every month in a brief update. Analysis and further details are released in quarterly summaries.

For additional information about the NWI Coincident Index as well as past releases please visit www.iun.edu/business/nwi/

Questions & Comments?

Dr. Bala Arshanapalli
barshana@iun.edu
(219) 980-6919

Dr. Micah Pollak
mpollak@iun.edu
(219) 980-6913

INDIANA UNIVERSITY NORTHWEST

The NWI Coincident Index is published by the School of Business and Economics