Subject Index

AFRICA

AFRICAN-AMERICAN

AMERICA, REGIONAL

AMERICAN

APPLIED FOLKLORE

ASIA

BELIEF

BIBLIOGRAPHY

CHILDREN’S FOLKLORE

CONVERSATIONAL FOLKLORE

DANCE, GAMES, AND FESTIVAL

DRAMA

EUROPE, EASTERN

EUROPE, SOUTHERN

EUROPE, WESTERN

EPIC

ETHNIC

FOLK ART

FOLKLIFE (AND CUSTOM)

INDEX

FOLKLORE AND LITERATURE

Gay. Review of Per Schelde Jacobsen and Barbara Fass Leavy, Ibsen’s Forsaken Merman: Folklore in the Late Plays. 23:1/2 (1990):133.

FOLKLORE AND THE MASS MEDIA

FOLKTALE

GENERAL

HISTORY AND STATE OF THE DISCIPLINE

Sawin, Patricia E. “M.A. and Ph.D. Programs in Folklore at the University of Texas at Austin.” 18:1 (1985):69-76.

INTERDISCIPLINARY

JEWSIL FOLKLORE

JOKES

LATIN AMERICA

MAGIC AND THE SUPERNATURAL

MATERIAL CULTURE

METHODOLOGY AND THEORY

MIDDLE EAST

MUSIC, AMERICAN

MUSIC, BLUES AND JAZZ

MUSIC, BRITISH

MUSIC, COUNTRY

MUSIC, FIDDLING

MUSIC, FOLKSONG

MUSIC, GENERAL

MUSIC, THE BALLAD

MYTH AND LEGEND

NARRATIVE

NATIVE AMERICAN

NEW AND NOTEWORTHY

OBITUARY

ORAL HISTORY

PHOTOGRAPHY AND FOLKLORE

PROVERBS, RIDDLES, RHYMES, AND OTHER MINOR GENRES

RELIGION

RESOURCES

SCANDINAVIA

TEACHING

URBAN

VISUAL FOLKLORE

WOMEN AND FOLKLORE

Acknowledgements

We would like to thank those who contributed by indexing individual issues of Folklore Forum. They include Douglas Boyd, John Cash, Ray Cashman, Joanna E. Evans, Michael Evans, John Galuska, Lisa Gilman, Mark Graham, Gregory Hansen, Judi Hetrick, Mindy Morgan, and Janelle Walker.
Very special thanks go to Jason Jackson for indexing journals and for helping with the many rounds of copy editing that were needed for the present index to come to fruition.

Notes

1 We have based our index on the one that appears in Folklore Forum, volume 12, number 1, and have preserved its format—alphabetical listing by author followed by a subject index. There are, however, two points of difference worth mentioning. The first is that we have changed the names and organizing principles of some of the subject categories, and added a few. For example, there was no subject heading "Conversational Folklore" in the index in 12:1. Secondly, we have decided to list book, record, and film reviews not only by the author of the review, but also by the author of the book, record, or film where possible.

2 Since volume 21, number 2, the Book Review Editor has presented New and Noteworthy. It is a brief overview of the books we have in the office that reviewers have not chosen for review by the time we are ready for publication. Since many books, generally fifteen to twenty, appear in this section, we have not listed them independently by author as we have with all others.