INTRODUCTION

The Lilly Library at Indiana University contains rare books, special collections, and manuscripts. A rare book acquisition program was begun in 1942/3 and was greatly strengthened in 1956 by Mr. J. K. Lilly's significant gift of first editions of great books and manuscripts. Today the Library has more than 356,000 volumes and 3,225,000 manuscripts.

Of particular interest for students of Africa are examples of early African cartography, texts on exploration and travel, manuscripts, volumes on the slave trade, reports of colonization societies and general monographs. The bulk of the material in this bibliography pertains to voyages, exploration and scientific expeditions. Of particular note are the collections of Bernardo Mendel and Professor Charles Boxer.

This bibliography attempts to identify those works in the Lilly Collection which relate to Africa, either wholly or in part. Items which primarily deal with the Orient or the New World, but which make reference to Africa are also included.

The bibliography has been subdivided to cover Africa in general and six regions of the continent. The first section (Africa - General) consists of works that deal with the entire continent. The six regions are: Northern Africa (the Mediterranean littoral, Egypt, and Mediterranean islands); Western Africa (the sub-Saharan areas of West Africa, from present-day Mauritania to Cameroon, and the Cape Verde and Canary Islands; Central Africa (the present day countries of Zaire, Ruanda, Burundi, Central African Republic, Congo-Brazzaville, Gabon, Chad, and Angola); Southern Africa, (South Africa, Namibia (South-West Africa), Rhodesia, Malawi, Zambia, Botswana, Lesotho, and Swaziland); Eastern Africa (the area from the Sudan and Ethiopia to Mozambique); and lastly Madagascar and the Indian Ocean Islands. Those works which have substantial sections on more than one area are listed under the area receiving the greatest attention, and are cross-referenced from the secondary ones.

Many people in the African Studies Program have contributed to compiling this bibliography. Peter Gilliland searched the public catalogue; Catherine Schrodt reviewed the German and Dutch material; Robert H. Brandstetter, George E. Brooks, Kenneth P. Lohrentz, Phyllis Martin, Niza Uslan, and Susan Myers also assisted in the preparation.

Special credit must also go to the staff of the Lilly Library; in particular, Mayellen Bresie, former Curator of the Mendel Collection, Geneva Warner, Head of Reader Services, and William R. Cagle, Acting Director of the Lilly Library.
