THANK YOU / MURAKOZE

This project could not have been successful without the contributions of many dedicated people and organizations.

From Indiana University, we want to thank the College of Arts & Sciences, the Global Village Living-Learning Center, the School of Education, IUSA Aid, the Center for Language Technology, Residential Programs & Services—Academic Initiatives and Services, the Residence Hall Alumni Association, Dr. Beth Lewis Samuelson, Dr. Jeff Holdeman, Vera Marinova, Andrew Fak, and our Advisory Board members.

In Rwanda, we want to thank NKURIYINGOMA Clement, MUNYANEZA Simon-Pierre, and CYUBAHIRO Abdu.

We also want to thank the TEAM Schools family, with a special thanks to Ali Nagle, and the TEAM Schools teachers and staff.

This project is especially grateful to Books & Beyond visionary, Nancy Uslan, for her ongoing support and for founding the Friends of Books & Beyond organization.

And most importantly, thank you to all the students from the Global Village Living-Learning Center, Kabwende Primary School, and TEAM Schools who dedicated endless hours to making this project a reality.

Books & Beyond

A Note to Our Readers

This beautifully written and illustrated children’s book is the result of an year-long, collaborative effort between students from three different cultural and socio-economic backgrounds. Every year, students from TEAM Schools (Newark, New Jersey), Indiana University (Bloomington, Indiana), and Kabwende Primary School (Kinigi, Rwanda) work tirelessly to produce a compilation of stories. Throughout the process, the participants in the Books & Beyond Project acquire skills in authoring, mentoring, collaborating, public relations, intercultural communication, grant writing, documenting, and fundraising. The final anthology serves as an instructional material for the teachers and students of Kabwende Primary School.

As you read the stories, it is important to remember that all of the student authors have grown up under challenging circumstances, with different sets of worries and different childhood experiences. Students in Newark face large achievement gaps and nearly a third of the city’s population live below the U.S. poverty level. Yet, with hard work, determination, and the help of those around them, students are able to overcome their adversities. In Rwanda, the student’s challenges are reflected in their stories. Hope, dreams, friendship, daily life, responsibility, and concern for family, community, and the environment are strong themes throughout.

This book provides you, the reader, with the indispensable opportunity to glance into the lives and experiences of children whose lives and struggles reveal both the beauty and complexity of our world. As you read through the pages, please remember that it is through the power of knowledge that we see beyond ourselves and learn to reach out and provide the help and support to those in greater need than our own.

Pre-reading questions:
• What do you study at school?
• What do you do at home?

My name is Alyssa. I am thirteen years old.

My name is Samantha. I am twenty-one years old.

I go to TEAM Academy in Newark, New Jersey.

I go to Indiana University in Bloomington, Indiana.
When I am at school, I learn about my favorite subject, history.

At school, I study my favorite subject, education.

In history, I learn about the past.

In education, I learn how to be a teacher.
At night, I have dinner.
Then, I go to sleep.

At night, I go to sleep.
I dream.

Alyssa Gaderon is an eighth grader at TEAM Academy. Her favorite colors are teal and turquoise and her favorite subject is history.

Samantha Citro is a senior at IU majoring in social studies and her dream job is to be a teacher.
Clubs at TEAM Academy
Jannah Flowers and Emma Getz

Pre-reading questions:
• What activities do you do at school?
• What is your favorite subject in school?

There are a lot of different clubs at TEAM Academy. A club is a group of students who like doing the same things. The students meet one day a week and they talk about what they want to do for the club. I am in three clubs: Movie Club, Student Council, and TEAM in Africa.

Movie Club is where you make different movies. All year, we prepare a movie to show in our school at the end of the year. The movie gets kids very excited.

We create a story, and then we dress up as the characters and make the movie. After the movie is made, all the students get together to watch it.
In Student Council, you can do different things such as helping other, helping your town, and helping your school. If you get into the club, you can be a President, Vice President, or Secretary.

To get into Student Council, you have to fill out a sheet of paper that has questions about yourself. It asks about your grades and why you want to be in the club.
TEAM in Africa is the club where we make books to help students learn English and learn about the country Rwanda. We get to write a story and work with our partner from Indiana University to write it out. After the story is finished, we draw pictures to illustrate it.

All the stories that we make as a club come together into a book and when we finish we send the book to Kabwende Primary School.

Jannah Flowers is a sixth grader at TEAM. Her hobbies include playing the piano and violin.

Emily Getz is a sophomore at IU majoring in anthropology and classical studies.
See and Learn
Tatianna Robinson and Abigail Hamilton

Pre-reading questions:
• What do you see at your school?
• How many teachers do you have?

I see one car. I see two doors.

I ride to school in this car. I walk into the school.

I see three friends.
I see four teachers.

They say, “Good morning!”

I see five tables in science class.

I see six pencils.

I use a pencil
to take notes.
I see seven books.

I see eight shoes.

I see nine chairs.

I see ten bananas.

I do not like bananas.
I go outside.

I see twelve footballs.

I see eleven frogs.

Tatianna Robinson is an eighth grader at TEAM Academy. Her favorite color is purple and her favorite book is Out of My Mind.

Abigail Hamilton is a junior majoring in microbiology. Her favorite color is yellow and her favorite fruits are apples.
Pre-reading questions:
• What do you study in school?
• What sports do you play?

Studies can be difficult, especially when you are an athlete. At TEAM Academy, you need to get good marks in order to join any sport. I currently have good marks, so I am allowed to play basketball.

I am in primary school and I have five classes to attend. I learn how to read and write. I learn about different countries in my history class and learn how to add fractions in math class. Sometimes, I also have time to play during school.
The sport I play is basketball. Basketball is a fun sport to play. My team and I have to put in a group effort in order to win games. We cheer and laugh after victories and bond when we practice basketball together. At basketball practice, we run up and down the court together.
Once we played the Marion P. Thomas School and we were nearly defeated. Our coach encouraged our team to keep playing and to not give up. Then we passed the ball and scored our final points. We won the game!

Tara Johnson is a sixth grader at TEAM Academy and her favorite hobby is basketball.

Emily Luhn is a freshman at Indiana University. Her dream job is to become an ice cream taste tester.
Pre-reading questions:
• How many brothers and sisters do you have?
• How do you spend time with your brothers and sisters?

If I were a big sister, my little sister and I would walk to the store together. It would be fun to push her on the swings.

We could play board games at home.
My little sister and I could jump on the bed and watch scary movies. I could cuddle with her when I get scared.

If I were a big sister, it would mean everything to me. I would take my sister to a park and set up a nice dinner for us to eat. If she were hungry or thirsty, I would give her food and something to drink.
If I were lonely, I would have company because my little sister would be right next to me. If I were bored, I could dress her up as if she were a doll.

I could teach her how to read and she would be the smartest girl in her class. I could buy her some toys just for being the best sister ever.
I could pick her up from preschool and ask her how her day at school was. When we arrived home, we could dance to songs and watch television together.

I would help her with her homework if she were confused. When her bedtime came, I would tuck her into bed and let her sleep. I would give her a kiss goodnight and sing a song as the night passes by.

Tamia Williams is a fifth grader at TEAM. Her favorite animal is a puppy.

Ashli Hendricks is a senior at IU majoring in international studies. Her dream job is to be a stand-up comedian.
Pre-reading questions:
• What is your favorite animal?
• What animals do you see on your way to school?

Christopher Columbus went on a journey to see animals. He really wanted to see a gorilla.
Christopher saw a cow. Cows say, “Moo.”

He walked on and passed by a few chickens. They ran away, saying, “Cluck, cluck, cluck.”
Christopher kept walking. He saw a lion and got scared. The lion ROARED.

Christopher ran away.

He was starting to get tired and decided to go back home. Christopher felt sad because he didn’t get to see a gorilla.

As he was walking home, Christopher got lost. He walked into a jungle and look at what he saw...
It was a group of gorillas! They were all playing and jumping on trees.

Christopher was happy.

Elijah Lambert is a ninth grader at Newark Collegiate Academy. His favorite experience with Books & Beyond was passing out the books to the students at Kabwende.

Sharanya Pillai is a sophomore at IU majoring in economics and mathematics. Her dream job is to be a financial analyst.
A Day in the Life of a Teacher
Morenike Lapite and Isabella Meier

Pre-reading questions:
• How have you helped someone?
• Have you ever received an award for doing good?

I wake up at six o’clock every morning. I take a shower and I brush my teeth. I watch the news to see what is going on in the world. Before I know it, it is time to go to school. I rush outside and get into the car. On my way to work, I see a car accident. I rush to the scene and call the police.
The police come and call the ambulance. The ambulance picks up the injured people and takes them to the hospital. I call the principal and tell him that I am running late. When I get to school, it is past seven o’clock. My students are worried because I am late to class.

“Hello, students. How are you doing today?” I say. “Good morning, Mrs. Downing!” say the students.
I go to the teachers’ lounge while my students are in class. On the loudspeakers, I hear the principal, Mr. Dean, calling my name to come to his office. I walk to the office down the hall. As I enter his office, I see a plaque and he hands it to me.

“Congratulations on your heroic decision to save the injured people on your way to work.”
I am very excited that I can help people as a teacher, but now it is time to go home.

Morenike is a fifth grader at TEAM Academy. Her hobbies include dancing and reading.

Isabella Meier is a freshman at IU majoring in East Asian Languages and Cultures. Her dream job is to be a crime-solving anthropologist translator.
Jenny’s Harvest
Antwaine Ellison and David Sowerby

Pre-reading questions:
• What kind of foods do you grow on a farm?
• How do you use the foods you grow?

Jenny is an American farmer. She lives in the middle of the country.

Every day, Jenny wakes up very early in the morning, before the sun rises.

In the spring, Jenny plants corn seeds using her tractor. In a few months, her crops are almost fully grown.
Jenny has a big red barn, and she raises cows and chickens. She feeds her cows grass and her cows give her milk. She feeds her chickens corn and they give her eggs. Jenny’s cows and chickens also help her fertilize her corn with their manure!

During harvest time, Jenny and her friends harvest their crops. Jenny’s friends grew pumpkins, wheat for bread, potatoes, and tomatoes.

They eat their food together to celebrate the harvest.

Antwaine Ellison is a seventh grader at TEAM Academy. His favorite book is The Fault in Our Stars.

David Sowerby is a junior at IU majoring in microbiology. His dream job is to be a language teacher by day and a rock star scientist by night.
Pre-reading questions:
• What do you like to study?
• When has been a time you were late for something?

College is a place where students learn skills they will need for their future career. My older brother, Hassan, goes to Howard University, where he is learning to become a veterinarian (a doctor for animals). Many college students say that they enjoy college very much, but it is a lot of work. However, the hard work eventually pays off when they get a job.

On the night before my brother’s big science test, he went to a theater production. Because he stayed awake very late, he overslept for his big science test the next morning at 8:00 am. Hassan woke up at 9:00 am and realized that he had made a big mistake.
“Oh, my! I’ve missed my very important science test!”

He got dressed and immediately rushed over to the science lab where his professor was in his office.

“Professor George, please let me take my exam. I overslept and I am very sorry for being late. I hope you will understand,” said Hassan, in desperation.

“Sure, Hassan, take your exam and promise me that you will never be late again!” said Professor George.

Hassan was able to take his science exam and he passed with an A+. Hassan learned that college should be taken very seriously.
When I go to college, I am going to study to become a doctor. I want to be a doctor because I love helping people become healthy. Also, unlike other people, I do not get queasy when I see blood.

I cannot wait to go to college because it is going to be so much hard work but a lot of fun. Where do you go to school? What do you want to be?

Asha Abdus-Salaam is a seventh grader at TEAM Academy who likes doing African dance and performing science experiments.

Quanisha Morrow is a junior at Indiana University who studies community health and enjoys writing.
What I Will Do in College
Kamil Vickers and Tamara Lane

Pre-reading questions:
• What do you like to do for fun?
• Where do you spend time with your friends?

When I go to college, I will have to study a lot. Studying will be useful for when I take tests or have big projects. If I study a lot, I will be able to have high marks and have fun in class.

In college, I would like to do many activities. Activities are things you do for fun. I like to stay healthy, so I would play many sports. I would like to swim and play baseball. I like to take pictures, so I will also do photography.
When I finish classes and activities, I will go back to my dorm. A dorm is a building where everyone lives together. Two people can share one room. In my dorm room, I will do my homework and study.

I can also have fun with friends in the lounge. A lounge is a big space where everyone has fun together.
I will go have fun with friends around the campus. A campus is the land where college buildings are placed. On campus, we can do things like go to the movies or go bowling. Off campus, we can go to different restaurants and to the shopping mall.
In college, I will have to balance my classes, activities, and friends. If I balance well, I can keep high marks and have fun.

Kamil Vickers is an eighth grader at TEAM Academy. His favorite subject is writing.

Tamara Lane is a sophomore at IU majoring in Japanese education. Her dream job is to be a comic book artist.
Pre-reading questions:
• What do you want to be when you grow up?
• How can you achieve your dreams?

Once upon a time there was a child who wished to become a government minister. He used to listen to the radio and follow the speeches of a minister in the government. Once, he saw the minister traveling in his beautiful car and said to himself, “I will one day become a minister, too.”

The child was so deep in thought about how he would become a minister that he started to fail his classes.

Then his mother asked him, “Why have you failed, my son?”

Instead of answering her, the boy asked her, “How can I become a minister?”

“I do not know. Ask your father,” she replied.
By then, his father had come home, so the child asked him, “Daddy, how can I become a minister?”

“You have to study hard and succeed,” his father answered.

The child decided to study hard and aimed to become first in his class. After he finished his studies, he became a soldier with the rank of major. Because he was a good leader in the army, the time came when the president changed the government and chose him to become the Minister of Defense. After that, he prepared a celebration. This was something to celebrate with food and drinks because he had become what he wanted to be.

Nehemiah’s Dream
HASHIMWIMANA Nehemiah

Pre-reading questions:
• Do you prefer to play or watch soccer?
• What is your favorite soccer team?
• Who is your favorite soccer player?

One day, Nehemiah dreamt he had become famous all over the world as a football player for APR FC* from Rwanda. Soon after he joined APR, they played against another Rwandan team, Rayon Sport. Nehemiah vowed to make Rayon Sport’s fans angry. The captain of APR encouraged Nehemiah to achieve his goal. All of the fans of APR soccer club went to watch the match. Before the match approached on November 28, 2012, Nehemiah gave an interview to journalists.

They asked him, “How many goals will you score?”

He answered, “As many goals as the fans wish, and as many as will guarantee the success of our team.”

When the match finally began, there were many spectators in the stadium. Nehemiah scored the first goal. The whole stadium stood up, shouted, and danced. While they were dancing, he scored another goal. The score was now two for APR and zero for Rayon Sport. The match ended like that.

* APR FC: “Armée Patriotique Rwandaise Football Club”

The staff of Rayon Sport decided to give Nehemiah money so that he would leave his team because he seemed so good at playing, like Cedric*. In no time, he became famous all over the world and the big soccer clubs like FC Barcelona, Real Madrid, Manchester United, Arsenal, Chelsea, and Manchester City began to try to recruit him.

HASHIMWIMANA Nehemiah is fourteen years old and is in P6 at Kabwende Primary School. His hobby is praying. His favorite food is Irish potatoes and his favorite color is blue.
Tourist Attractions in Akagera National Park
NDAYAMBAJE Leonard

Pre-reading questions:
• Where have you traveled?
• What is your favorite animal?

On a Thursday, my friends and I went to visit Akagera National Park, where we saw many different animals, like hippos, elephants, giraffes, buffaloes, lions, and tigers. But we didn’t see any gorillas. The day was delightful and we saw some animals playing with their babies.

We took pictures and showed them to our parents. Some pictures showed our friends trying to feed the animals their favorite plants found in that area of the park.

After our visit, we went out of the national park to the Serena Hotel, where we had some food and drinks. Everyone was very happy.

When we went back to our village, our relatives and friends were waiting for us, as eager to know about our visit as we were to tell them all about it. They all thanked us for taking our trip. They encouraged others to follow our example by visiting tourist attractions that would benefit our country.

One Day When I Was on the Farm
TWIRINGIRIMANA Benjamin

Pre-reading questions:
• What is your favorite food?
• What new foods have you tried?

I went to our farm to harvest corn. When I got there, I saw that some of the corn was already ripe. I only took corn that was ready to be picked. I started to eat some of the corn, when I saw a caterpillar on it! The caterpillar was eating the corn too!

When I went back home with the corn that I had picked, my father was there and my mother was cooking the meat that he had brought home. I began roasting the corn. The meat smelled very good.

The next day, my father asked me, “Why did you not finish the rest of the corn?”

I replied angrily, “You put so much pepper on it that it hurt my tongue and I could not finish the rest of my corn!”

My father began laughing at me and said, “One day you will change and you will like peppers in your food.”

The following morning, I ate food without any peppers and it was delicious!

Pre-reading questions:
• How do you treat your brothers and sisters?

• What have you promised your parents to do?

A long time ago, there was a couple who had two children, the elder Nyiraburo and younger Munyana. Two days before the parents died, they told Nyiraburo to take care of Munyana until adulthood, and she agreed.

Many years later, Munyana went to the streets and met a man with a bicycle who asked her, “Do you know Nyiraburo?”

Munyana confirmed, and the man told her to quickly come here.

Other men came to visit Nyiraburo. One man came on a motorcycle. Another man came in a car. The last man, who smelled good, came in an airplane.

Nyiraburo finally agreed to go and said, “Quickly tell him to wait for me.”

She bathed, put on some lotion, put on her clothes, and went up to the plane.

TWAGIRUMUKIZA Jean D’Amour

Pre-reading questions:
• Do you wish to be a doctor in the future?
• What can you do to make that dream come true?

Long ago, there was a child named Jeff who liked to study. He passed the National Exams, but his family was too poor to help him go study at the university. Fortunately, a wealthy man was able to help him pay for his education.
Jeff’s dreams came true. He became a famous doctor in Kigali.

Jeff’s parents deeply thanked the man for his contribution to Jeff’s success in life, because it got his family out of poverty. Since then, Jeff’s family, the wealthy man, and their descendants have been friends.

TWAGIRUMUKIZA Jean D’Amour is fourteen years old and a student at Kabwende Primary School. His favorite color is red. His hobby is playing soccer. When he grows up, he wants to become a doctor.

Pre-reading questions:
• Have you ever received a reward for getting good grades or for doing something well?
• If you could receive a reward for doing something good, what would the reward be?

One day, I got the opportunity to spend my holiday at my uncle’s house. I had good grades and was allowed to visit. I was very happy to play with my cousins. In their village, they had two soccer teams. I was asked to play on one team, which had a missing player.

After ten minutes, the match began, and I scored the first goal. All the fans were very happy. After twenty minutes, the other team got a replacement and scored their first goal. The first half of the game ended with the score tied one to one.

After a short break, the second half of the game started. It was very difficult for both teams to score goals. After eighty-eight minutes, the opposing team got a penalty. The referee decided to punish the other team. We easily scored our second goal and the match finished with two goals to one. The winning team was rewarded by local government leaders with a new ball, uniforms, and sports shoes. They also took us to the Hotel Guest House ASOFERWA*, where we ate and drank.

That is how I enjoyed my holidays and realized the importance of studying hard. Because of my academic success, I was allowed to go to town.

The Day the Foreigners Came to Our School
MUHORAKEYE Honoline

Pre-reading questions:
• Why is it important to study at school?
• How have you benefited from education?

One day, I was going to school. When I reached school, I met a group of foreigners. They asked me about my educational background, and I told them all about myself.

When I went back home, I told my parents everything that happened to me at school during the whole day.

Then my parents asked me, “Do you know English?”

I responded that I knew only a little English.

My parents asked me again, “What have the foreigners said to you?”

I told my parents that they had asked me if I had attended their English course, and I told them that I had attended. After telling my parents about that event, they became happy and gave me five hundred Rwandan francs as a reward.

The following day, I used that money to pay for another English course which gave me a lot of skills and knowledge.

The more you work, the more you benefit.

My Dream
HABUMUGISHA Ereneste

Pre-reading questions:
• What is a dream that you remember having?
• Do you want to have a family when you grow up?

One night, I had a dream that showed me my future. The dream went like this:

I woke up early in the morning and I went to school. I met a doctor there, and I could see that he was in good health. When I asked him why he was so healthy, he answered that he had studied very hard.

I made a decision to start studying very hard. Finally, I passed the National Exams and then studied in the university where I got top marks. Once I finished my studies, I found a good job and became a doctor. My monthly salary was $3,000. I became one of the richest people in the world and I built different hotels in Rwanda. My parents loved me so much that when I was not with them, they felt very sad.

I got married when I was 28 years old and then I had two children, a boy and a girl. My son was very intelligent, but my daughter did not care to study. This was the reason why she was failing her classes. So I asked her, “Why are you failing your classes?” She replied, “It’s because we have so much money. We don’t need anything!” I told her, “What you will become is what you have prepared to be before.” That quote encouraged her and she studied so hard that she became one of the students in her region who would be able to continue their studies. Studying is very important. I woke up immediately, wishing to put into practice what I had dreamt about during the night.

Pre-reading questions:
• What are you afraid of?
• When has been a time that someone helped you?

Kakuze went to fetch water. Suddenly, she met a lion that had escaped from the forest. She trembled because the lion wanted to eat her.

Kakuze cried and ran. She found people and she said, “Oh, my God. Help me! I am going to die!”

The lion kept chasing her. She ran back home as fast as she could.
Her mother saw her and asked, “Where is the water?”

She replied, “I met a lion. It wanted to eat me!”

Her mother said, “Show it to us.”

Some men went with axes while others beat drums. Then, they killed the lion and threw it in the forest. The parents of Kakuze forgave her for not bringing water because she was running from a lion.

Do Good Deeds and Go
NIYIGIRIMBABAIZI Joseph

Pre-reading questions:
• Have you ever done a good deed for someone?
• Has someone done a good deed for you? What was it?

One day on my way home from the market, I met a big black goat that seemed lost. I went back looking for its owner and I met a man who asked me, “Whose goat is that?”

I replied, “I am looking for its owner.”

That man said, “It is mine, thank you.”

He bought me blue shoes, and I said, “Thank you.”

My mother asked me, “Why are you so late?”

I told her what had happened. She thanked me by saying, “You are a good child and thank you.”

I got potatoes from the market and helped my mother cook them. When Dad came at night, he saw me wearing the new blue shoes and asked me, “Where did you get them, since I did not give you money?”

I replied to him, “I did good today so these are the reward I was given.”
He asked me, “What good deed?”

I told him the whole story, and he praised me too. We ate and we slept.

After a month, I returned to school but without everything I needed. On my way, I met the man whose goat I had found and he asked me, “You seem to be missing some things for school. What are you going to do?”

I replied, “I was given insufficient money.”

That man gave me the required amount and I bought the things that I needed.

Since then, I have worked hard in my studies. I was the first in class that year and I thanked the man.

A good deed always results in a positive outcome.

How I Went to America
HABUMUGISHA Elissa

Pre-reading questions:
• What places have you visited?
• What rewards have you received for doing good?

I am a child in fourth grade, and I am in the top three of my class. My parents \textit{rewarded} me by sending me to visit my cousin Eric who lives in America. He lives there as a foreigner. I told the story of my journey to my classmates.

In the early morning, an airplane flew from Kanombe Airport in Kigali to Nairobi, Kenya. After one hour, I arrived in Kenya. We rested for a short time and then we continued the journey. I saw London, England, and America.

Although the trip itself was very long, I got to America. My cousin, his wife, and their children met me at the airport in their car. My cousin took me out for a drive in his car. We went around to different parks and we also visited the Rwandan people who live near my cousin’s home.

My First Day in the Countryside
NISHIMWE Mutoni

Pre-reading questions:
• How do you help your friends?
• What transportation do you take to get home?

One day early in the morning, my mother woke me and said, “Quickly, take a bath! Then go visit your older brother in the countryside today, but don’t spend too much time there!”

When I reached town, I discovered that my money had been stolen and I cried out, “How will I get back home?”

Fortunately, my friend saw me there and asked, “What are you crying for? What’s wrong?”

I answered, “I was going to visit my brother, but my money was stolen!!”

He comforted me by telling me, “Don’t worry! I will feed you and provide transportation for you!!!”

Immediately, I paid for a taxi and went back home.

When my mother saw me, she was very surprised and said, “Why have you come back, my child? What’s wrong?”

I told her the whole story about how my friend helped me.

She was very happy and said to me, “Try to live in peace with all people.”
