

2018 Membership Application

Our members support original scholarship in optometry history and the identification of people and places significant to the development of the profession. The OHS also encourages the preservation and use of archival and museum collections that make this research and recognition possible. It is because of the support of members of the OHS that we are able to produce publications and educational events that highlight the important role understanding the past plays in charting the future of the profession.

The Archives & Museum of Optometry

The Archives & Museum of Optometry (AMO) has been taking care of the tangible pieces of our optometric memories since 2009 by Collecting, Preserving, and Sharing. This service to you would not be possible without generous donations from optometrists interested in maintaining an outstanding collection of archival material and museum objects. Located at the American Optometric Association headquarters in St. Louis, AMO strives to ensure the protection of our legacy for future generations.

Support The Archives & Museum of Optometry! Make your donation at www.aoafoundation.org
