Indiana Historical Society Graduate Fellowships in History

The Indiana Historical Society intends to offer two $2,000 graduate fellowships for the 1978-1979 academic year to doctoral candidates whose dissertations are in the field of Indiana history or Indiana and the Midwest.

Applicants must have completed all course work and met all requirements for the doctoral degree except the research and writing of the dissertation. Applicants must provide a dissertation prospectus, graduate transcript, and three letters of recommendation, including one from the chairman of the applicant's major department and one from the dissertation director. Deadline for receipt of applications is March 15, 1978.

For further information and application forms write Gayle Thornbrough, Executive Secretary, Indiana Historical Society, 315 West Ohio Street, Indianapolis, IN 46202.

Indiana History Project

The Indiana State Library has begun a program to tape-record historical accounts of Indiana for use by the blind and physically handicapped. The Indiana Historical Society is sponsoring the project as a memorial to the late Eli Lilly. Among materials already taped are several books published by the Society and recent issues of the Indiana Magazine of History. Volunteers are needed to tape on their own equipment at home or in the Indiana State Library. Monitors are also needed to work in the Library. For additional information on producing the tapes and on their use, write F. Mote, Coordinator, Indiana History Project, Indiana State Library, 140 North Senate, Indianapolis, Indiana 46204.

Early National Historical Society

Historians of the early national period of American history (approximately 1789-1830s) are organizing a group to encourage interest in that period. Persons desiring further information should contact James H. Broussard, Room 413, 140 North Senate Avenue, Indianapolis, Indiana 46204.
