Query 64: GRAY FAMILY

Joshua Gray, a pioneer in Indiana, and an extensive land owner, built and subdivided "The Gray Enlargement," and erected a handsome home at that time, in Newburg, Indiana. William Gray, of Grayville, Illinois, came from Kentucky to that place and became a very wealthy man. He had three sons—Allen Gray, Lieutenant James Gray, and W. W. Gray, who are now living in Evansville, Indiana. William Gray was a cousin of my father, William Fauntleroy, but I do not know the connections. Sarah Fauntleroy, born about 1760, a daughter of Colonel William Fountleroy and his wife Apphia Bushrod, married Lieut. James Gray and moved to Kentucky. If some reader can give the connections of these families, I shall be very grateful.—Miss M. E. Fauntleroy, New Harmony, Indiana.

Query 65: WILLIAM GRAY FAMILY

William Gray married Catherine — and lived three miles west of Crawfordsville, Montgomery County, Indiana. Catherine was born in Essex County, New Jersey on March 4, 1793. She came west to Butler County, Ohio, with her parents in 1806. She married William Gray in 1828 and they migrated to Montgomery County, Indiana, in that year. There Catherine died in 1877. Her daughter, Mary Gray, married Jacob McIntire, and it was at their home that the mother died. I wish to know the names of Catherine's parents and grandparents, etc.—Miss Margaret Elizabeth Tinsley, 129 Carpenter Road, Mansfield, Ohio.

Query 66: KITCHELL FAMILY

Moses Kitchell, an early settler in Cincinnati, Ohio, was born in 1740, at Hanover Neck, New Jersey. He was the son of Joseph (1710-1779) and Rachel (Bates) Kitchell. He married Phoebe, daughter of Elias Hedges. Children of Joseph and Phoebe Kitchell were: Lydia, Rachel, Percy, Luther. Moses emigrated (1786) to Kentucky with his family, thence to Cincinnati. There are descendants in Indiana and Illinois, as well as in Ohio. As a descendant, I would like to correspond with descendants in Indiana. A history of this family in the Middle West is being compiled.—Ernest P. Grissell, 564 Harrison Street, Gary, Indiana.

Query 67: BOYD-BROWN FAMILY

Query 68: BUTLER FAMILY

Alma Butler was born on August 20, 1843, in Winchester, Randolph County, Indiana. Her father was Samuel Butler (b. Dec. 18, 1806), and her mother, Hannah Barker (b. Feb. 25, 1816, in Randolph County, Indiana). Wanted: parentage and ancestry of Samuel Butler. Any information will be appreciated.—E. U.

Query 69: Ross Family

William Ross was born in North Carolina on May 17, 1758, and died in Monroe County, Indiana on April 21, 1855. He entered land in Perry Township of that county in 1827. His wife, Elizabeth Barnes, was born in North Carolina on October 21, 1791, and died in Monroe County, Indiana, on February 13, 1852. Wanted: the Revolutionary service of William Ross. His granddaughter remembers this statement: "Your grandpa took care of the General's horse," but we have no definite proof.—L.B.E.

Query 70: BUCK FAMILY

Andrew Buck was born in Towamensing Township, Northampton County (now in Carbon County), Pennsylvania, on July 28, 1773. He died in Clinton County, Indiana, on Oct. 16, 1844. He married Mary Eva Box who was born in Bucks County, Pa., on Feb. 20, 1775, and died in Clinton County, Indiana, on July 15, 1854. The children were: Salome, David, Nicholas, and Lydia. Tradition says that the father of this Andrew Buck was also named Andrew Buck, and that he served in the Revolutionary War. I desire proof of this traditional information relative to Andrew Buck, Sr.—B.T.L.

Answer to Query 36 (Sept., 1937, p. 368, C.H.S.): The inscriptions from the Gray Cemetery, near Bloomington, Indiana, may help the writer of this query. I searched for this cemetery for several months. It was found on the John R. Gray farm about seven miles northeast of Bloomington. There are fourteen graves, four of them of the Paul family. The following records are all on one stone: Edmond Paul—February 5, 1798—February 9, 1892; Rachel, wife of E. Paul—December 26, 1808—September 26, 1884; Maria J., daughter of E. and R. Paul—died June 3, 1843—aged 2y 7m 29d; David, son of E. and R. Paul—died March 25, 1845—aged 10y, 3m, 23d.—Mrs. Charles R. Emery, Bloomington, Indiana.

Answer to Query 52 (Mar. 1938, p. 135, M.E.M.): The Glover family, as far as we know, was of pure English stock. Uriah Glover, Sr., was born on Long Island in 1740. Uriah Glover, Jr., was born at Elizabeth, New Jersey, on October 21, 1773. Gaddis Glover, son of Uriah Glover, Jr., was born in Shelby County, Kentucky, on October 8, 1805. He came to Indiana with his father in the spring of 1814, when he was not quite nine years old. In March 1827, he married Eliza Elgin, daughter of Jesse Elgin, who lived in Claysville, Washington County, Indiana. They had eleven childrenfive boys and six girls. Uriah Glover, Jr., married Priscilla Gaddis, on February 14, 1797, at Uniontown, Pennsylvania. She was born on May 13, 1779, and died on Lost River, Orange County, Indiana, in 1836. Her husband died in 1856. Priscilla was the daughter of Colonel Thomas Gaddis, who served under General Washington and held a commission signed by him.—Mrs. O. O. Williams, Salem, Indiana.

Answer to Query 54 (Mar. 1938, p. 136, M.H.): From many sources the following information of James Blythe was gathered. Born, Rowan County, North Carolina, on October 28, 1765; graduate of Hampden-Sidney College, Virginia, in 1789; licensed by the Presbytery of Orange County, North Carolina, in 1791; removed to Kentucky in 1791; one of the pioneer Presbyterian preachers there; acting president of Transylvania University, 1804-1816, and later in the Medical Department, until 1831; called to Hanover College, Indiana, to serve as the first president, from 1832 to 1836. The Hanover College Journal (April, 1894) I, 5, states that he had married Margaret McElroy on August 1, 1793, and adds that there had been twelve children. The children at home when Pres. Blythe came to Hanover were: James E., Margaret, Eliza, Anna, and Sarah. The parentage of James Blythe is not given, nor is his Revolutionary service mentioned. The Roster of Soldiers from North Carolina in the Revolutionary War, published in 1932 by the D.A.R., gives service for two Joseph Blythes and two Samuel Blythes. The Census of 1790 (North Carolina) lists James, Richard and Samuel Blythe in the Salisbury District, Mecklenburg County.—M.T.M., Editor.
