¹ Transcribed from the microfilm copy of Wayne County Marriage Records, March, 1820, to September, 1822, made for the Society of Indiana Pioneers from Volume A, Second Book, in the clerk's office, Richmond, Indiana. The records published here are from the second thirty pages of the volume. Volume A contains the marriage records between 1817 and 1830.

The same policy of making uniform the names of ministers and justices of the peace has been followed as in "Wayne County Marriage Records, 1811-1817," Indiana Magazine of History (Bloomington, Indiana, 1905-), XL (1944), 87-102, and "Wayne County Marriage Records, 1817-1820," ibid., XL, 188-205. Samuel Taylor served as a justice of the peace as well as a minister. An asterisk is used after names in brackets when it is the name appearing in the index of Volume A and if it varies with the entry.

² This name appears as Benefiel in earlier records.
