

Historical Materials Deposited in Indiana Libraries

The historical materials described below have been placed in the Indiana University Library for preservation. The Indiana Magazine of History has been instrumental in the deposit of these materials and lists them here for the information of interested persons. The editor invites correspondence about letters, diaries, journals, and other documents which offer significant information concerning the historical development of Indiana or the Old Northwest. At times, such documents can be published in the Indiana Magazine of History. Regardless of whether or not they are publishable, the editor will be glad, whenever possible, to offer guidance about desirable depositories.

1. Civil War Journal of Stephen Keyes Fletcher. This diary narrates Fletcher's experiences as a member of the Thirty-third Regiment, Indiana Volunteer Infantry, during part of 1861 and the greater part of 1862. The Journal appeared in its entirety in the Indiana Magazine of History, June, 1958. It has been deposited in the Indiana University Library by Maxwell Keyes Fletcher, III.

2. Letter from Attia Porter to her cousin, John C. Andrews, July 30, 1863. This letter describes the Battle of Corydon. It has been deposited in the Indiana University Library and was received from Arville L. Funk.

3. J. F. Turner, "Recollections of a Greencastle Republican Rally in 1888." This typescript contains reminiscences of the Cleveland-Harrison campaign in Putnam County, Indiana. Fred H. Turner has deposited this material in the Indiana University Library.
