

Indiana Civil War Centennial Commission

Governor Harold W. Handley has appointed the following persons to membership on the Indiana Civil War Centennial Commission: Ira J. Anderson, Uniontown; J. J. Bailey, Anderson; Robert L. Brokenburr, Indianapolis; Donald F. Carmony, Bloomington; John Caylor, Indianapolis; Robert Christianson, Mishawaka; Roy Combs, Indianapolis; A. W. Crandall, Greencastle; Owen Crecelius, Crawfordsville; Carrol F. Dillon, Evansville; Mrs. Roy Dunnington, Franklin; George L. Fisher, Leesburg; Hubert H. Hawkins, Indianapolis; William A. Koch, Santa Claus; Eli Lilly, Indianapolis; Maurice L. Mendenhall, Sheridan; Mrs. Edward C. Rumppler, Indianapolis; Miss Elsa Strassweg, New Albany; Gordon S. Thompson, Evansville; Melville E. Watson, Greenfield; Carl Zenor, Bainbridge.

The commission has had only a few meetings to date. Its chairman, Carl Zenor, invites ideas or suggestions from members of the Indiana Historical Society for review by members of the commission.

Indiana Sesquicentennial Commission

The following persons have been appointed to membership on the Indiana Sesquicentennial Commission by Governor Harold W. Handley: V. Dewey Annakin, Terre Haute; John V. Beamer, Wabash; Oliver Bumb, Muncie; Donald F. Carmony, Bloomington; Leo Craig, Delphi; Richard H. Gemmecke, Terre Haute; John T. Goodwin, Brookville; Hubert H. Hawkins, Indianapolis; Clarence Jackson, Indianapolis; Paul Myers, Bloomington; Marbury B. Ogle, Lafayette; Edward D. Pierre, Indianapolis; Charles Rochelle, Evansville; Hassil Schenck, Lebanon; Lucius Somers, Hoagland; Paul E. Strate, Freelandville; Howard Wilcox, Indianapolis. Governor Handley and Lieutenant-Governor Crawford Parker are ex-officio members of the commission.

The commission has thus far held two meetings. Its chairman, Donald F. Carmony, invites ideas or suggestions from members of the Indiana Historical Society for consideration by members of the commission.