

Meet the New Members

Compiled by ANNA MARIE JOHNSON
Associate Dean for Research and Learning Services
Indiana University, Bloomington

Olivia MacIsaac works as a Research Information Management Librarian at IUPUI University Library in the Center for Digital Scholarship. I come from the Eiteljorg Museum where I worked as the Collections Specialist, managing the collections department cataloging system. Before my work at the Eiteljorg Museum, I was the Digital Scholarship and Scholarly Communication Associate at Butler University. I received my BA and MLIS from IUPUI, and I'm happy to be back on campus even as the university prepares for numerous changes with the upcoming 2024 split.

Jack Haig Nighan is Senior Media Cataloger at Herman B Wells Library, Indiana University Bloomington. At IU, Jack previously earned the M.L.S. with a specialization in music librarianship and the M.M. in music theory, taught as Associate Instructor in Music Theory, and worked at the William and Gayle Cook Music Library. Originally from Glastonbury, Connecticut, Jack studied music theory and music history at the University of Connecticut, where he worked at the Music and Dramatic Arts Library and at Homer Babbidge Library.