Financial Editorial

The Fall issue of the IUSPA Journal cost $275 to print. Currently we have $385 in our budget: $300 from the Department of Residence Life, Indiana University; $50 collected from alumni at the 1972 NAWDC convention; and the remainder from last year's dues in IUSPA. An undetermined amount of support will be received from 1972-73 dues, which will cover mailing costs.

Each year at least one journal is published. If sufficient funds are received, we sometimes publish two. This year we would like to publish three issues, thereby providing a greater forum for student concerns and more information of interest to alumni. We believe that unless at least three issues are published, the IUSPA Journal does not really justify its existence, nor the expenditure of $300 for one small issue.

In order, therefore, to improve the quality and relevance of the IUSPA Journal, we must ask for financial support from our alumni. If you can help us, please send donations to:
