

Look-out Farm, Natick, Massachusetts.

*"Kneeling over the rows,
We reached among the leaves
With quick practiced hands,
Cupping the berry protectively before
Snapping off the stem
Between thumb and forefinger."*

From "Bitter Strawberries" (Collected Poems 300)

