

American Elm, Public Garden, Boston, Massachusetts.

Well, one wearies of the Public Gardens: one wants a vacation

Where trees and clouds and animals pay no notice;

Away from the labeled elms, the tame tea-roses.

From "Two Campers in Cloud Country" (Collected Poems 144)

